WHAT WE STAND FOR

OUR PLEDGE

At Jewel Star Group, we believe in a world where luxury and ethics go hand in hand. Our commitment to innovation, sustainability, and social responsibility drives every decision we make.

Everything we do at Jewel Star Group is guided by our commitment to sustainability and ethical practices.

We advocate For:

THE EARTH

Each year, over 150 million carats of diamonds are mined, causing irreversible damage to ecosystems and communities. While the industry claims regulated mining reduces harm, the truth is that it remains destructive. At Jewel Star Group, we offer diamonds that preserve both the planet and its resources.

HUMANITY

Traditional diamond mining has fueled conflict, exploitation, and human suffering, leaving diamond-rich regions in poverty. At Jewel Star Group, we reject this legacy. By choosing conflict-free diamonds, we support positive change and empower communities affected by mining. Also, our conflict-free mined diamonds embody ethical practices.

THE CONSUMER

We answer only to our values, not shareholders or monopolies. Our diamonds are crafted with integrity, priced fairly, and made accessible to all. Transparency, responsibility, and sustainability guide everything we do, ensuring every purchase contributes to a more ethical & sustainable future.

THE PROBLEM

At Jewel Star Group, we cherish the beauty and brilliance of diamonds, the sparkle they bring, and the dreams they represent. But we also recognize that these gems come at a significant cost—not just financially, but to the Earth and humanity. The truth is, newly mined diamonds carry a heavy price, one that many of us are no longer willing to pay.

CONFLICT DIAMOND DEFINITION

The Kimberley Process Certification Scheme (KPCS) defines a conflict diamond as: “A rough diamond mined in an area controlled by insurgent forces whose sale is used to finance anti-government military action.”

This definition means that diamonds mined in areas notorious for violence, exploitation, and human suffering can be considered conflict-free.

At Jewel Star Group, we take a much broader approach. For us, a conflict diamond is any diamond that contributes to environmental degradation, social harm, or economic instability. We believe in setting higher standards, protecting both the environment and the native communities forced to mine these diamonds under unsafe conditions.

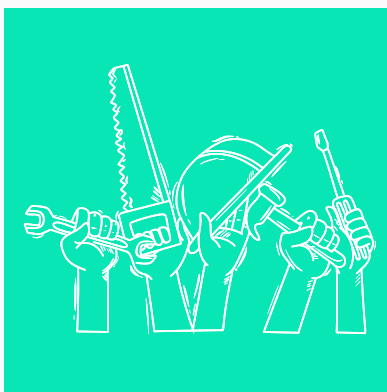

Consumers need to face the harsh reality: conflict diamonds and gold are not relics of the past—they remain a significant issue today. Conflict diamonds continue to flow from regions like Africa, Brazil, Russia, and India, perpetuating harm and injustice in their wake.

THE EARTH

For every 1-carat diamond mined, 500 tons of soil are displaced. For each gold ring, 20 tons of rock are discarded, often laced with arsenic and cyanide, poisoning water supplies and ecosystems.

HUMANITY

Diamond and gold-funded wars have caused nearly eight times more deaths than U.S. military conflicts in the past 80 years. Over 20% of earth-mined diamonds are produced under horrific conditions, and only 6% of gold mines in the DRC are certified free from forced labor.

THE CONSUMER

Millennials and Gen Z, the majority of engaged couples today, seek value, transparency, and social responsibility. They prefer online shopping with accessible information, product backgrounds, and reviews. They demand proof of sustainability and are wary of “greenwashing,” especially in an industry that has hidden its true costs for too long.

Turning our Pledge into Action

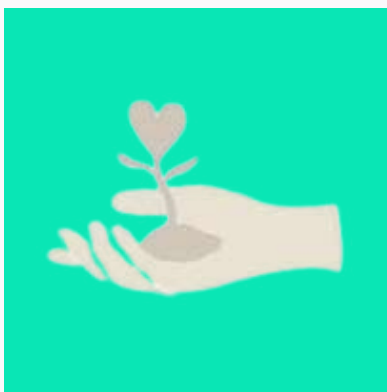

THE SOLUTION

Jewel Star Group is a social enterprise built to end forced labor, protect the environment, and repair the damage done. With a mission that resonates with the next generation, we lead the way in ethical jewelry.

THE EARTH

We create positive environmental impact by using ethically sourced diamonds, 75% recycled metals, and renewable energy in every piece we craft. Our shorter supply chain results in a far smaller environmental footprint compared to other earth-mined diamonds.

HUMANITY

We're committed to giving back. 10% of net profits go to our foundation, Gangaba Devrajdada Koshiya Welfare Trust helping local communities thrive by offering education, business opportunities, and sustainable alternatives to diamond mining.

THE CONSUMER

We advocate for the diamond buyer by prioritizing people, planet, and profit—always with integrity and transparency.

A SUSTAINABLE APPROACH TO MINED DIAMONDS

KIMBERLEY PROCESS

The Kimberley Process, launched in 2000, was a collaborative effort involving the United Nations, diamond-producing nations, industry representatives, and NGOs. Its primary goal is to prevent “conflict diamonds” from entering the global market. As of September 2007, the Kimberley Process included 54 participants, representing 81 governments (with the European Union and its Member States counted as one), covering the majority of stakeholders in the rough diamond trade.

Since January 1, 2003, the Kimberley Process has implemented a certification system to ensure the origin of rough diamonds. Diamonds must be exported in sealed containers accompanied by numbered certificates issued by government authorities. Regular inspections are conducted, and countries failing to meet compliance standards can face sanctions, including exclusion from the diamond trade. By 2006, approximately 99% of the rough diamonds in circulation were certified as conflict-free.

THE JEWEL STAR COMMITMENT

The Jewel Star Group is deeply committed to responsible sourcing and maintains the highest standards of transparency and quality in its operations. Every diamond we handle is meticulously traced, ensuring its journey is fully documented from its origin to its final form. We strictly adhere to the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme (KPCS), guaranteeing that every mined diamond we purchase is conflict-free. This unwavering dedication reflects our commitment to ethical practices and delivering only the finest, responsibly sourced diamonds to our customers.

Commitment to Ethical Production

THE RESULT

At Jewel Star Group, we believe in creating a better future with every diamond. Our commitment to ethics, sustainability, and community empowerment drives everything we do.

THE EARTH

Every 1-carat ethically sourced diamond ring saves over 25,000 gallons of water, 15,500 kilowatt hours of energy, 500 tons of soil, 13 tons of toxic waste, and 14 tons of CO2 emissions. Plus, we plant a tree with every order to offset shipping emissions.

HUMANITY

We empower communities in Liberia, Togo, Sierra Leone, and the DRC to thrive outside diamond mining, supporting them during crises like Ebola, COVID-19, and the war in Ukraine. By focusing on income opportunities for mothers, we create lasting, community-wide change.

THE CONSUMER

Choosing Jewel Star Group means more than just a beautiful diamond. It means ending child labor, protecting the environment, and giving back. Your love becomes part of the solution.

A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

At Jewel Star Group, we are deeply committed to pioneering sustainable practices that align with our core values of ethical production, environmental stewardship, and delivering premium diamonds of unmatched quality. Our approach ensures that every step of our process reflects our dedication to creating a better, more sustainable future.

RESPONSIBLE SOURCING

We believe that the journey of our diamonds begins with responsible sourcing. We adhere strictly to ethical sourcing practices, ensuring complete traceability and transparency throughout the production process. By working closely with trusted partners, we guarantee that every diamond we create is sourced with integrity, contributing to the well-being of communities and the environment.

RENEWABLE ENERGY

Our commitment to sustainability extends beyond sourcing. We proudly power every stage of our lab-grown diamond production using renewable energy. From cutting-edge technology to manufacturing and polishing, all activities are fueled by sustainable energy sources, reducing our dependence on fossil fuels and lowering our carbon footprint.

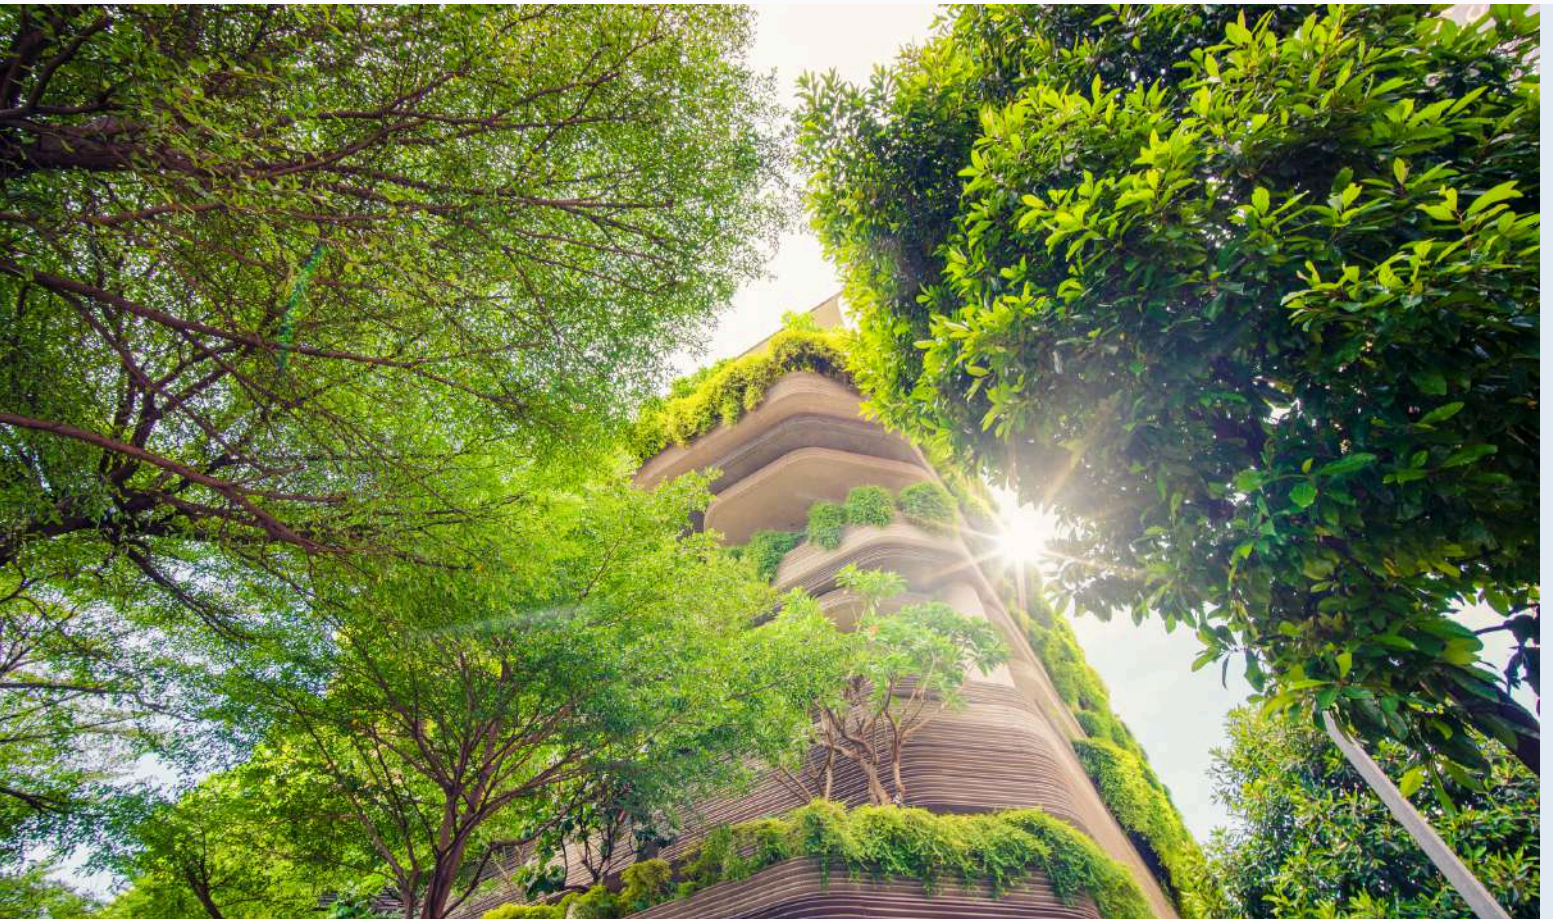

CARBON NEUTRALITY BY 2026

As part of our dedication to environmental responsibility, we have set an ambitious goal to achieve carbon neutrality in all of our manufacturing activities by 2026. Through innovative solutions, energy-efficient practices, and strategic partnerships, we are actively working to minimize our environmental impact and contribute to a cleaner, greener planet for future generations.

PRODUCT CARBON FOOTPRINT

Jewel Star Group conducts comprehensive Product Carbon Footprint (PCF) assessments for all CVD diamonds, meticulously tracking emissions at every stage of production, from cradle to gate. With a commitment to sustainability, our diamonds are crafted to achieve an exceptionally low carbon footprint of just 3.209 kg CO₂e per carat, reflecting our dedication to minimizing environmental impact.

Corporate Social Responsibility - CSR

TOGETHER WE GROW & FLOURISH

At Jewel Star Group, we believe that true corporate responsibility goes beyond profits—it means giving back to society and contributing to the well-being of our communities. We are deeply committed to making a meaningful impact through various Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives, helping to foster growth, empowerment, and sustainability in the areas we serve.

Mavjibhai Koshiya and his family have been proud donors to the construction of several temples dedicated to serving the indigenous communities in Dang, Gujarat, fostering spiritual and cultural enrichment in the region.

SUPPORTING COMMUNITIES: A DAM OF HOPE IN CHO GATH

In its unwavering commitment to giving back to the community, the Jewel Star Group embarked on a transformative initiative to address water scarcity in Gujarat's rural areas. One of its most impactful contributions was funding the construction of a dam on the Kalubhar River in the village of Chogath. This dam was envisioned as a lifeline for the region, providing a sustainable solution to the pressing water crisis faced by neighboring villages. The dam has become a source of immense relief for villages like Chamaradi and Ratanpur, which previously struggled with unreliable water supply, particularly during critical agricultural seasons. By harnessing and storing the river's water, the dam now ensures a consistent supply for irrigation, benefiting around 50,000 farmers in the region.

This initiative has not only improved agricultural productivity but has also uplifted the livelihoods of countless families who depend on farming as their primary source of income. The Jewel Star Group's dedication to empowering communities through impactful projects like this reflects its belief in creating meaningful change, one initiative at a time.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS FIRST

At Jewel Star Group, health and wellness are at the forefront of our values. Since 2002, we've organized annual blood donation drives, collecting over 3,700 liters of life-saving blood and averaging 400 donations each year. These efforts save lives during emergencies, including surgeries and critical medical treatments. Guided by our founder, Mr. Mavjibhai Koshiya, we view blood donation as a profound act of compassion, inspiring others to contribute to this life-saving cause. Our commitment to health extends beyond blood drives. From vaccination camps during COVID-19 to creating safe and secure work environments, we prioritize the well-being of our employees and the community, fostering a healthier and more compassionate society.

Community Welfare

Sustainability is central to our initiatives. The Bhavnagar Green Circle showcases Jewel Star's dedication to eco-friendly development, featuring lush green spaces and smart water-saving irrigation systems. These projects not only enhance mobility but also improve quality of life while reducing environmental impact.
